

Introduction

---

Tuesday, December 14, 2021 5:09 PM

Python is a powerful and clean programming language that can be used to write websites, analyze data, create utilities and many other kinds of software.

This application created via research into the challenged faced by teachers in teaching computing programming and will provide pedagogical advice with the aim of aiding you in teaching the Python programming language at T-level (level 3) curriculum. More specifically Python version 3. The app will contain instructions, images and actual code blocks that provide visual.

Witten by Joseph Saunderson